

RUTGERS, THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY
FACULTY POSITION
HIGH ENERGY THEORY

The Department of Physics and Astronomy at Rutgers (New Brunswick, NJ) invites applications for one or two faculty positions in theoretical high energy physics, with a focus on LHC physics, broadly conceived. These positions are junior positions within the New High Energy Theory Center, subject to the availability of funds. A Ph. D. in theoretical high energy physics and postdoctoral research experience is required. Rutgers has a strong existing program in LHC physics. The theory and experimental groups have a tradition of working closely together. In addition, members of the New High Energy Theory Center and the Department of Physics are active in string theory and in fundamental aspects of quantum field theory. Applicants should be committed to excellence in undergraduate and graduate education. Please send a curriculum vitae, a signed cover letter that includes a statement of research accomplishments and interests, and the names of at least three referees to the address below as soon as possible, but by no later than February 1, 2009. Please do not ask the referees to send letters at this time; any such requests will be made directly by Rutgers.

Prof. Torgny Gustafsson, Chair
Department of Physics and Astronomy
Rutgers University
136 Frelinghuysen Road
Piscataway, NJ 08854-8019, USA

In addition to the hard copy, applicants are requested to transmit an electronic version (PDF file) of the submitted application to Salome Arencibia, salomea@physics.rutgers.edu Rutgers University is the State University of New Jersey. Its New Brunswick campus is located in central New Jersey which is known for its cosmopolitan culture and diversity. The New Brunswick area offers excellent access to New York City, the New York metro area and the Boston - New York - Philadelphia - Baltimore - Washington D.C. metro corridor. We especially invite applications from women and members of minority groups. Rutgers University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.