

FORTHCOMING SCIENCE & SOCIETY EDUCATION MEETINGS

15-19 October 2006, Nano/Bio Science and Technology Education for the 21st Century, Cincinnati, OH. For more information, visit <http://www.materialseducation.org/new2006html>.

16-18 October 2006 (Washington, DC), 15-17 November (Batavia, IL), 12-14 December (Portland, ME), Project 2061 workshops on "Using Atlas of Science Literacy." For more information about workshops and scholarships, including application deadlines, visit www.project2061.org/workshops.

27 October 2006 "Road to Energy Independence: New York City's Alternative Transportation Future," Bronx Community College Center for Sustainable Energy. For information call (718)-289-5332 or visit <http://www.bcc.cuny.edu/InstitutionalDevelopment/CSE/>.

5-7 November 2006, Energy in Schools, a conference for educators, administrators, board members, and facility professionals, Rochester Convention Center, Rochester, NY, sponsored by the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority. For information, call Josh Reif at (212)-221-7822 or Susan Dee at (518)-527-4466, or visit <http://www.nyserda.org/energySchools.asp>.

8-9 November 2006, World Science Forum 2006: The New Universe for Business. To register, call 1-(866)-711-4476 or visit www.hsm-us.com/wsf. Speakers include Amory Lovins, Mike Roco, Francis Collins, Andrew Lippman, Ray Kurzweil, Jeffrey Sachs, C. K. Prahalad, Paul Horn, Stuart Kauffman, Marvin Minsky, Susan Greenfield, James Hansen, and Tom Leighton.

19-21 January 2007, Science + Society: Closing the Gap, a conference and open dialog addressing the critical need for improved communication between the scientific community and the general public, a Partners HealthCare project, sponsored in part by Ortho-McNeil Neurologics, Inc., Westin Copley Place Hotel, Boston. For information, call (617)-724-7299 or visit <http://www.scienceandsocietyconference.com>.

1-3 February 2007, Twenty-second International Science, Technology, and Society Meeting (STS-22), sponsored by the International Association for Science, Technology, and Society, Radisson Plaza Lord Baltimore, 20 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore, MD. Submit 250-word electronic proposals to Conference Chair Roli Varma by 1 September 2006 on the following topics: Where are we going with science and technology, and where are these creations taking us? The end of cheap oil and the beginning of an energy and materials crisis, Rethinking the urban habitat, Understanding and Responding to the crisis in human work, The crisis of the contemporary university, Developing information technology, nanotechnology, and biotechnology while disregarding their implications, The role of the mass media and the Internet around the globe, and other science, technology, and society themes.